TRADE WITH SOUTH AMERICA.

How We May Compete With the Nations of the World. United States Consul Hill sends to the State Department from Santos, under date of April 18, tables showing the trade of the political situation yesterday at Milwau-American countries during the last ten favors the nomination of William Jennings years. There has been during the decade Bryan as a presidential candidate, National teady decline in our imports from South America in values and quantities; for, with the single exception of coffee, the staples the single exception of conee, the staples constituting our imports from that section (India rubber, wool, sugar, hides, etc.) are higher in price today than they were ten years ago. Coffee, which has greatly in-creased in quantity, has fallen tremendously in value.

The most notable expansion in our export trade during the last ten years has been with Europe; but there has been a greater with South America. He continues:
"The United States should employ the agencies adopted by European nations in attaining their supremacy in these markets, viz: steamships under our own flag, banks under our own control and business houses inder distinctively American management Once we are placed upon terms of equality in these particulars, our merchants can be left to their own initiative.

"No one acquainted with their resourceful, enterprising and adaptable character need doubt that, with our present capacity to manufacture largely and cheaply, w Consul Hill mentions the good effects of the cruise of the Wilmington to the upper reaches of the Amazon. He says: "In addition to the labor of exploration that formed such an important object of the cruise, the display of a modern steel vessel so perfectly adapted to river work as the Wilmington is a fit exhibition of the capability and preparedness of our domes-tic designers, steel plants, shipyards and ordnance works to turn cut products equal

"Nothing that comes within the actual purview of foreign folk, whether native or merely domiciled denizens, is so emblematic of a nation's industrial power or weakness as the government vessels that fly its flag in foreign parts.

"During the years succeeding Admiral Walker's visit of congratulation to Brazil in 1830," he continues, "when the vessels of our new navy took the place upon this coast of the Tallapoosa, Essex and Yantic types—which were neither ornamental nor seful and were in constant danger of being run down by non-militant coal barges
-the increased respect commanded by the appearance of our vessels has been, I believe, a real and constant, though inappreciable, commercial factor.

The Indianapolis News Sold. The Indianapolis News was sold yesterday to Delevan Smith of Chicago and Chas. R. Williams, for $936,000. They already owned 56 2-3 per cent of the stock. WISCONSIN DEMOCRATS DIVIDED.

Canvass Shows Very Decided Differences on Bryan and Free Silver. That the democrats of Wisconsin are still divided was plainly shown by a canvass of United States with the various South kee. While the state central committee Committeeman Edward C. Wall does not favor the 16 to 1 issue, and many gold democrats are with him.

George W. Peck, chairman of the demo cratic state central committee, in an interview last night indorsed the organization of the Bryan Club in Milwaukee Tuesday National Committeeman Wall, how ever, is quoted as saying that as far as his position on the national democratic com-mittee is concerned, if the democratic convention declares for the coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, he would not care to erve on the committee.

Speaking for the democratic state central committee, Chairman Peck said:

"The chairman of the state central committee believes, and I believe most of the members agree with him, that Mr. Bryan should be nominated, and that he will be nominated. They cannot well in their official positions advocate his reminative. cial positions advocate his nomination now.

If he is nominated they will do all in their power to elect him, believing him to be the best man in the world today. Individually, the members may join clubs to bring about his nomination or the nomination of another, as they may see fit, but their official work comes when the nomination is made."

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT AT PARIS.

It Will Be Distinctly National, Although All Sections Will Contribute. Howard J. Rogers, director of education and social economy to the United States commission of the Paris exposition, said yesterday in New York of the exhibit that is being arranged for the United States that it was impossible to estimate how many parts of the country will be represented in the educational exhibits. "The cities which have adequate appropriations and which will be represented completely in all departments, from the kindergarten to the high school, are Boston, New York, Newark, Albany, Chicago, St. Paul, Omaha and Denver. Other cities are preparing work in special ways or to illus-

"The educational exhibit will be distinctly national in form, although all material connational in form, although all material con-tributed by any city or state will be prop-erly credited to that locality. The effort is to show, irrespective of state lines, the best and most advanced work which is being done in every grade of public school work and in colleges and university departments in the United States. To accomplish this the exhibit will be arranged by grades, so that in examining one can find in one sec tion all the primary work of each country in another all the grammar school work,

'In the department of higher education the same scheme will be followed, and in-stead of a certain definite amount being assigned to the great universities, the space is blocked in various departments, viz., law, medicine, theology, pure science, philoso-phy, language and literature, fine arts. All the great universities of the country are preparing exhibits in two or more of these departments, as they choose.

CHARLESTON THE SUFFERER.

John A. Smith Before the Interstate Commission.

Two witnesses in the Charleston rate case were examined by the interstate commerce commission at the forenoon session yesterday. They were B.T.Newbury, general freight agent of the Old Dominion Steamship Company, and John A. Smith, president of the Charleston bureau of freight and transportation.

Mr. Newbury was questioned as to the business done by his line with the west through the south. He said that on through rates made by his line with the railroads they were able to compete successfully with the northern trunk lines on western packing house products through Norfolk to points on the Maine coast, though the direct rail route was 500 miles shorter. This point was brought out by the complainants with the view of showing the possibility of moving freight cheaply hrough the south. Mr. Smith was the main witness for the complainants and presented in great detail he facts collected by the Charleston commercial bodies tending to show discrimina-tion against that city and in favor of the known in traffic parlance as "the Virginia gateways." Mr. Smith gave instances where the through rates from Chicago to Charleston from 5 to 21 cents greater per dred than the combination rate from Chi-cago to Norfolk, and thence to Charleston. In addition he declared that the rallways made it impossible for the Charleston mer-clants to take advantage of these combina-

Admiral Cromwell Here.

Admiral Cromwell, commandant of the naval station at Havana, has arrived here on leave of absence. The Havana station is now on shore, there being no large ship on duty there and only one small craft for harbor uses. The admiral reported his yards in good condition and he has arranged with Secretary Long and with Admiral Endicott, chief of the yards and docks, for some extensions and repairs of the buildings. BIG STRIKE SETTLED.

Thousands of Men Will Return to Work at Advanced Wages. Advices from Dubois, Pa., last night said

The strike of the coal miners of this disrict was finally settled this afternoon. All mines in this region will resume at once The delegates were in session here two days, with General Manager Robinson present, before a final agreement was reached The terms agreed upon are the same as the operators offered the miners at the beginning of the strike. An advance is given to 45 cents per ton for pick mining and 22 1-3 cents per ton for machines. Drivers and laborers receive an advance of 10 per cent. The agreement is to continue in force for one year. It provides also that in the even of an advance in competing regions the miners of this region will be given a proportionate advance. The scale agreed upon is the highest that has been paid in this region for several years. The resumption operations will give employment to 10,000 miners and several thousand railroad men, besides 500 shop men.

It means prosperity to the whole region.

Not Up to Pennsylvania Standard. According to a dispatch yesterday from Harrisburg, Pa., Dr. George W. Ludwig of Chambersburg recently obtained a rule on the medical council of Pennsylvania requiring it to show cause why it should not issue him a license to practice medicine and surgery in Pennsylvania, Mr. Ludwig being a graduate of the Maryland University of Baltimore and holding a license granted him by the board of medical examiners of Maryland. The contention of he Pennsylvania medical council was that the medical law of the state of Maryland failed to meet the demands of the state of Pennsylvania, and Judge Simonton, in an remsylvania, and Judge Simonton, in an opinion handed down yesterday afternoon, sustained the Pennsylvania council and ordered the rule discharged. There were half a dozen similar cases before the board, all of which will be governed by these directions.

Absorption Talk Pure Nonsense. The New Haven Register yesterday afternoon published an interview with Vice Pres dent John M. Hall of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company touching reports to the effect that the New Haven company may be absorbed by the New York Central. Judge Hall is quoted as characterizing such rumors as "bosh" and "utterly anfounded on fact." Continuing, he said:
"The New Haven's relations with the New York Central and the Pennsylvania have been friendly for years, and will continue to be so. The lease does not affect us in any way, and we expect to be on hand to "As to the rumors, I can say that there is no truth in them. There is no truth in the rumors that the Vanderbilts are coming in here to swallow up this line—absolutely none. The situation will continue to be as it has been, and all this absorption talk is pure nonsense."

Japanese Immigration to Philippines The American Bible Society has received a report from the Rev. Mr. Loomis, its agent in Japan, in which he quotes a prominent Japanese as saying that the question of sending emigrants to the Philippine Islands was being considered, and if only a suitable opening is found there for the laboring classes a considerable number will be ready to go. Every vessel to Hawaii from Japan for some time past has taken The Rev. Jay C. Goodrich, the first appointee of the American Bible Society to the Philippine Islands, will sail, with his wife, within a few weeks.

Negro Miners Shot From Ambush. The first act of violence in the ore mine strike of the Robinson Mining Company of Ishkooda, Ala., which has been in progress for three weeks, occurred between Oxmeor and Ishkooda, Tuesday night. Gus Miller, a negro mulatto boy, working for the company, was seriously wounded and may die. George Henry and George Brown, both negro miners, working for the company, were wounded by shots which did not penetrate far and will recover. The men were shot from ambush.

For the past few days the officials of the company have been importing negro labor from Georgia, and this started the trouble. Sailing of the 19th Infantry. Orders were issued at the War Departnent directing headquarters and two battalions of the 19th Infantry to leave Camp Meade in time to reach San Francisco to sail for Manila on the Tartar on the 22d Automobile Association Suggested. The Electrical Review, in its current number, issues a call to all interested in automobiles to meet in New York city in September, to form a national automobile association for these reasons: "The legal rights of these vehicles have been assailed by police and park boards, their status is indefinite and unsatisfactory, and united action is necessary for the enfranchisement of the machine and the betterment of many conditions surrounding the industry." This includes electro-mobile and all forms of self-propelled vehicles.

Miss Powell and Lieut. Haeffner Married in Alexandria.

-Personal Notes.

Ceremony Followed by a Reception in This City-Other Weddings

The marriage of Miss Louise Douglas Powell, daughter of the late Lieutenant Joseph S. Powell and Mrs. Annie Louise Powell of this city, to Lieutenant Wilhelm Gustav Haeffner of Wiesbaden, Germany, last night at St. Paul's Church, Alexandria, was a most interesting event. A Virginia ceremony was necessary to avoid a delay of a month or more, because owing to a law in Germany in force the past year her citizens must give notice of their intention to marry long enough in advance that three public announcements may be made. Without this formality the German ambassador here could not indorse the application for a marriage license, which the law of this District ordains in the case of a foreigner. These details, which are bothersome enough for those who have to overcome them, only added increased zest to the pleasure of the witnesses to the beau-tiful ceremony at St. Paul's, which united as pretty a bride and as handsome a groom as have been seen for many a day. The Washington party went down by a special train at 6:20, being preceded an hour by the couple and the family party. The train stopped a short distance from the church, where the ushers, Mr. J.-Albert Shaffer, Mr. B. Frank Meyer, Mr. F. S. Key-Smith and Mr. Charles Rabold of Baltimers were in writing to essent them S. Key-Smith and Mr. Charles Rabold of Baltimore, were in waiting to escort them to seats. The chancel was elaborately decked with palms and the organist rendered appropriate selections before and during the ceremony. The ushers and maid of honor, Miss May Kendricken of Boston, led the way to the chancel. The bride came in church escorted by her grandfather, Mr. Thomas McGill, and at the chancel railing was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. Alexandre Zelenoy of the Russian embassy. Rev. Peter Parker Phillips, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

er Phillips, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

The charming young bride looked her prettiest in a trailing gown of ivory satin trimmed in chiffon. The guimpe was of shirred chiffon and cascades of point lace extended from the shoulders to the waist line. The lace collar was held by a gleaming crescent of diamonds, the gift of the groom. A tulle vell was worn looped back from the face. Her bouquet of bride roses was tied with long streamers of white ribbon. The maid of honor, Miss Kendricken, wore white mousseline de sole with inser-tions of Irish point lace over pink taffeta, and carried a cluster of long-stemmed American Beauty roses. Mrs. Powell, the bride's mother, wore maize faille with the bodice of shirred

The bridal party and friends came back to Washington in the same train, and found carriages at the railroad station to take them to the residence of Mrs. Powell, 1120 Vermont avenue, where the reception fol-Vermont avenue, where the reception followed. The drawing rooms were profusely decorated with roses and sweet peas. In the first room, where Lieut. Haefiner and his bride received congratulations, the flowers were white roses. Pink flowers predominated in the second parlor, while in the dining room the table had a centerpiece of La France roses. A noticeable feature of the decoration of the drawing room was the arrangement of small Amerroom was the arrangement of small American and German flags over the mantelpiece. The dining room doors were draped with the stars and stripes, a large Amer-ican eagle and the German colors. The bride's cake was also decked with tiny flags of the two nations.

At 10 o'clock the bride came down stairs dressed for the wedding journey, and the couple were followed to their carriage by a fusillade of rice and chorus of good-byes. The bride's going away gown was a tailor-made blue cloth, with which was worn a becoming dark blue hat.

Lieut. and Mrs. Haeffner have arranged for an extensive western town as well as for an extensive western tour as well as a short stay at Newport before sailing for Germany. They will make their future home at Wiesbaden, where they first met four years ago. The bride received a num-ber of elegant gifts, which, owing to her intended departure for a foreign home. intended departure for a foreign home, took the easily carried forms of checks and jewelry.

Among those present at the reception were Mr. Thomas McGill, Mrs. Annie Louise Powell, Dr. and Mrs. George F. Taylor of Baltimore, Mrs. Agnes Rowan, Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Wolhaupter, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Wolhaupter, Jr., Mr. A. P. Doug-las, Miss Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Thompson, Miss Topley, Miss Sipes, Miss Madge Stailey, Col. and Mrs. T. H. Alex-ander, Miss Du Bois, Col. David I. NAVAL CHIEFS DISAGREE.

Proposed Modification of an Order Relating to Construction. A sharp discussion occurred at vesterday's meeting of the board of naval chiefs relative to the modification of general order 433. This order gives to the naval constructor general supervision of all work on ships, including that originating from other branches of the service. Efforts have been made to modify the order on the ground that it centered in the chief naval constructor a practical control of all the coordinate branches of the department. By a vote of 4 to 1 the board decided a week ago to recommend a change, the constructor voting to continue the old system. A majority report was to be made, but up to date it has not been submitted. In the meantime the minority report of the chief constructor was submitted. At yesterday's meeting inquiries were made as to the cause for not making the majority report, and it was finally decided to hold another and it was finally decided to hold another meeting in order to hurry the question to a definite issue. It is exciting much inter-est in official circles, as the decision is felt to involve the control of the construction of all warships.

NOT IN THE WHISKY TRUST.

The Largest Producer of Rye in the Country is Not for Sale.

The report to the effect that the whisky trust had bought up the famous Gibson plant near Pittsburg was absolutely denied by the owner, Joseph F. Sinnott of Philahelphia, yesterday. "There is not a word of truth in the statement that the plant has been sold," declared Mr. Sinnott. "The trust had an option on the plant which expired July 1, but negotiations are now entirely off. You may say that the plant is not for sale at present at any price."

The distillery, which is known as the Gibsonton Mills, is the largest producer of rye whisky in the United States, the annual output being 33,000 barrels a year. Mr. Sinnott is the sole owner, but the plant is operated under the firm name of Moore & Sinnott.
